Convention Of Nazarenes Is In Session Here

FIRST BUSINESS SESSIONS TODAY

Women's Societies Re-elect Most Of Officers On Tuesday Afternoon

A ringing challenge to Christians by Dr. J. B. Chapman of Kansas City, general superintendent of the Nazarene denomination, sent the Pittsburgh district assembly of Nazarenes off to an inspiring start in the Cathedral last night.

Addressing close to a thousand people in the main dining room, Dr. Chapman had for his subject "What Is a Christian?". In elaboration he asked three vital questions. What does a Christian believe? What does he practice? What does he experience?

Personal Experience Important.

And in discussion he declared that "nominal Christianity will not meet the need of the present hour" and that "we must have a genuine experience of religion like that received by Paul the Apostle as he traveled the road to Damascus."

"No man can be a Chrstian," said Dr. Chapman, "unless he can connect the Christ of history with the Christ of personal experience."

This opening service began at 6:30 p. m. with a rousing songfest with special singing by song-evangelists Mackey, Paul and Helen Mayfield, the Younce brothers and the male quartet of Eastern Nazarene college located near Boston, Mass.

Delegates Warmly Welcomed.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath of New Castle welcomed the assembly to the city. The Rev. Norris A. White, pastor of the First M. E. church and president of the New Castle Ministerial association, also extended words of greeting in behalf of the clergy.

As Dr. White in the course of his remarks made mention of the fact that the New Castle News carried no liquor advertising he was heartily applauded by the huge audience.

The pastor of the local church, Rev. F. C. Lehman, added his welcome to the assembly by fitting brief remarks. Rev. C. Warren Jones, superintendent of the Pittsburgh district, responded with words of appreciation.

Five Hundred Registered.

There are now 500 registered delegates and visitors at the convention. They have come from cities in many points of eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania embraced by the large Pittsburgh district.

The district is the largest in the denomination and there has been agitation toward dividing it into two districts. In fact, this will doubtless be one of the big questions to be decided at this assembly. Division

Persons who travelled the Ellwood City-Zelienople road, late Tuesday afternoon, report that an unusual sight was witnessed. A cow was hitched to a corn drill, and was pulling the drill through the field. A woman was leading the cow, while a man was steering the corn drill from the handles.

Pa Newc is told that a splendid moving picture reel on "safety" is being presented in many of the New Castle schools.

Registration Days For County Voters

Complying with the recent act of the General Assembly, the county commissioners today set June 8, July 6 and August 10 as the days for the registration of rural voters. Registrars will sit at the various polling places in the townships and boroughs.

In order to qualify as a voter on September 14, the primary election day, it will be necessary for every man and woman over 21 in the townships and boroughs to appear at the polling booth in person and register. Permanent registration now covers the entire county. Previously it had applied only to the city.

The fact that a voter in a township or a borough is registered now means nothing. He must be registered under the new act, and this will cover a period of five years. The days of the registering assessor are over.

If a rural voter does not register on June 8, July 6 or August 10, he will then have to go to the courthouse to get himself qualified to vote.

"The duke and Mrs. Simpson both retired early last night for a good night's sleep. They are going to take life as easy as possible until further plans are announced.

"The duke wants to play golf this afternoon, if possible."

It seemed likely he would do so, for the weather here was fine and the sun shone brightly.

Reinforcements Are Sent To Hollywood Strike Zone Following Outbreak

SEVEN INJURED SERIOUSLY IN RIOT

Negotiations Launched By Producers, In Effort To Bring Strike To End

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, May 5. — With seven men seriously hurt in rioting and a hundred others nursing bruises, a tense terror gripped the strike-torn film capital today.

Frankly fearing trouble, labor strategists withdrew women from the lines of pickets surrounding the major studios.

Seek To End Strike

At the same time producers swept aside preliminaries and launched negotiations through which they hope to end the worst strike in the history of the $255,000,000 motion picture industry.

Almost 500 policemen, armed with tear gas and guns, were detailed to the studios after the striking federated motion picture crafts held a mass "pep rally" last night and reiterated its determination to bring the film producers to bay.

First major violence in the strike broke out last night when 50 unidentified assailants forced their way into a meeting of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes and began hurling furniture.

Six men applying for IATSE membership were hurt in as wild a riot as any ever staged before the cameras here.

Before police arrived, furniture was smashed, windows broken, skulls cracked and men hurled from windows. Thousands of passersby witnessed the riot.

Deny Riot Sanctioned

The ten striking craft unions of the federation have charged that the IATSE is "company dominated" and is attempting to break the strike by signing federation men.

Both labor leaders and producers, however, denied that the riot was sanctioned by strike headquarters.

The assailants, who wore black arm bands in contrast to the white ones worn by pickets, escaped in the crowd before police arrived.

Meanwhile minor riots broke out at several studios.

John Kline, a property man at Universal Studio, was set upon by four unidentified men and severely beaten. Hospital attaches reported he was near death with a skull facture.

Two culinary workers attempted to pass picket lines at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios and were set upon by Pickets. They did not enter the studio and were not seriously hurt.

In front of Paramount an unidentified scenic artist created a near riot when he knocked a camera from the hands of a picket who was making a film record of all who passed through the lines.

Hoffman Named Again In Trial

WROTE LETTER OF CONGRATULATIONS

NEWARK, N. J., May 5.—For the third successive day, the name of Gov. Harold G. Hoffman was mentioned again today in the trial of Ellis H. Parker and his son Ellis, Jr., charged with kidnaping Paul Wendel and wringing from him a false "confession" to the adbuction of baby Lindbergh.

Governor Hoffman was named by Wendell, a government witness, as the writer of a letter congratulating Parker on the arrest of Wendel, whose now-repudiated "confession" coincided with eleventh-hour postponement of the execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann beyond the scheduled date.

Wendel claims that he was kidnaped in New York, kept prisoner and tortured and threatened into the pseudo-confession in Brooklyn, and later transported to New Jersey. Three other men who were to stand trial with the Parkers already have pleaded guilty.

Arthur Mometer

His appetite is a wondrous thing, he eats with relish and vim, and a steak or two with a flock of spuds, is a joy and delight to him. But his eating is done for the major part at dinner when he comes home, and the way he tackles his vittles my friend, is an epic, a dilley, a tome. But for breakfast he eats rather sparingly, a moment and he is done for a cup of java is all he takes, with perhaps now and then a bun. And it isn't because he is hungry you see, he has to get on his way, and a minute is all he can take to eat, it's damp, sixty-four today.

HOPKINS BATTLES FOR FUNDS

Hear Facts On Relief Needs

House Appropriations Committee To Consider Relief Fund For Year

FOUR PROPOSALS UNDER DISCUSSION

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 5—Armed with facts and figures to support the administration's proposal for a $1,500,000,000 relief appropriation, works administrator Harry L. Hopkins today prepared to battle for it before the house appropriations deficiency subcommittee.

The director of WPA faced a severe grilling at the hands of members of the subcommittee, some of whom want to slash the relief appropriation to $1,000,000,000 as a part of the general economy program.

Entails Sharp Slash

Hopkins planned to show the subcommittee that the $1,500,000,000 appropriation—if made to last for a full year beginning July 1—will entail a sharp slash in WPA rolls.

Four separate proposals were to be considered in the framing of the new relief bill. They are:

1. Keep the amount at $1,500,000,000, as asked by President Roosevelt.

2. Reduce total to $1,000,000,000, which acting chairman Woodrum (D) of Virginia said was entirely probable.

3. Boost the total to $2,400,000,000 as demanded by a house "relief bloc" and mayors of many big cities.

4. Eliminate WPA altogether, turning back relief to states. Rep. Bacon (R) of New York was to suggest consideration of this plan.

In a backfire against the economy program, chairman Marvin Jones (D) of Texas of the house agriculture committee, declared that the present farm program must continue. He indicated that many new proposals for expansion may be delayed.

DUKE AND MRS. SIMPSON WILL SET DATE FOR WEDDING

Their lunch table was set outside, but when the duke saw it was within range of telescopic lenses, he had it moved to a secluded spot.

Several newsreel airplanes were ready at a nearby field to follow the duke for films should he emerge to play golf.

Meanwhile, the duke and his bride-to-be will spend their time planning details of their wedding, choosing a best man.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Rogers and their host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bedaux, joined the happy couple in a gay fireside circle, while the duke and Mrs. Simpson regaled each other with stories of events during their separation.

The duke was reported to be occupying an apartment in the "new wing" of the chateau, while Mrs. Simpson is in Mrs. Bedaux' apartment in the "old wing."

Heavy Guard

A heavy guard is maintained at the chateau day and night. There are nearly two score guards in all including 20 smartly uniformed gendarmes, agents of the Surete Nationale (French Secret Police) and Scotland yard operatives. There are also five tough members of the famous French Garde Mobile.

The past three days have been the most exciting the old chateau has witnessed since the medieval days when it was built.

Mrs. Simpson is living in a wing which was built in 1508 by the Briconet family. Briconet was minister of finance for France under King Louis XII and also was head of the abbey at Tours.

The Briconets had feudal rights under the Bourbon kings to manufacture gun powder on the estate.

These powder factories were once part of the original estate but have been government property since the French revolution in 1789. They still exist in the beautiful Indre river valley below the chateau. But their smoke stacks are a source of irritation to Mr. and Mrs. Bedaux and Mrs. Simpson.

Mrs. Simpson recently told me she thinks the estate is most beautiful but it is a shame the stacks mar the scene in the valley below.

In 1833, Drake Del Castillo, a fabulously wealthy Anglo-Cuban trader, came into possession of the estate, and 20 years later he built a new wing. This family owned it until it was purchased by Bedaux 10 years ago.

Although the moat has been filled with earth, it is obvious the chateau was once a formidable fortress. It has crenelated turrets, four spires and seven lightning rods.

leftist groups, including the minister of justice, addressed the gathering, thanking the combatants for ceasing hostilities.

Both sides will remain under arms pending publications of terms of the agreement.

Calm Reported.

Perpignan, France, May 5.—Relative calm was reported in battle-scarred Barcelona today following a bloody burst of fighting as anarchists staged an uprising in which hundreds were believed killed and wounded.

Catalan authorities regained control of the center of Barcelona, according to government reports, and the cessation of activity—perhaps only momentary—came while the government awaited arrival of 12,000 Socialists from the Aragon front to help maintain order.

The defiant anarchists were reported expecting 7,000 reinforcements to aid them in holding Barcelona's suburbs.

The Franco-Catalan frontier remained closed, and trains were not running.

The Catalan capital remained the center of attention in Spain's "side-show civil war" but government officials expressed hopes they would master the anarchists completely by nightfall.

Band Benefit Spectacle At Stadium On May 25

The crowning of a May queen, to be chosen from the girls of senior high school's senior class, will be one of the headline events of the gigantic open air athletic-dramatic-musical spectacle to be held at Taggart stadium on Tuesday evening, May 25, as a public benefit for the senior high and the junior high school bands.

Announcement of the selection of the night of the 25th for the gala outdoor show was made today by Richard E. Rentz, general chairman of the night's arrangements.

George Washington, Ben Franklin and senior high students will participate in the celebration, Rentz said, and there'll be a variety of sports, gymnastic exhibitions and musical presentations.

The May queen's crowning will bring a gay climax to the affair.

Proceeds from the stadium benefit will be divided among the bands of the senior high and the two junior highs. The music council will set it aside to buy uniforms for the senior high band and new instruments, long a need, for the junior high groups.

General Chairman Rentz and his committees are at work on the plans and within a very short time will reveal the program of entertainment for the evening.

All evening services will begin at 6:30. The first hour of the service will be devoted largely to congregational and special singing.

The business session this morning opened at 8:15 with Dr. Chapman presiding, and the largest part of the period was devoted to getting the conference machinery into working order and to hearing first reports from the district churches. Rev. H. H. Marvin of Bellaire, O., has been apointed conference press reporter.

Election Thursday Morning

Shortly before noon today it was made known that the new district superintendent to succeed Rev. C. Warren Jones, who has been made general foreign missions secretary, will be elected Thursday morning at 9 o'clock.

It is likely that the question of division of the district will be brought before the assembly for discussion and action at that time also.

Many pastoral reports were submitted this morning and routine business will also occupy the afternon hours it is understood.

The house voted to reconsider the proposal upon the motion of Rep. Henry Dubbs, D., Philadelphia.

The program was presented by Mrs. C. N. Moore, wife of the minister, who has recently come to New Castle from Zelienople. Her remarks were on missions and she told many interesting as well as instructive stories about work in the various fields.

Refreshments were served during an informal social hour by the several hostesses. There were 28 members present.

Covers were laid at the dinner for 15 guests, four of them visitors. Those receiving special invitations included Mrs. May Stritmater, Miss Elizabeth Hubbard, Miss Ethel Pollard, and Mrs. Earl Johnston. The latter guest presented each member of the club with beautiful flower corsages.

Later hours were spent with a bridge tournament the main diversion. Prizes for high scores went to Mrs. Ella Howard and to Miss Ethel Pollard. A new type of game, originated by the Chinese people was enjoyed at the club session.

Peggy Griffith and a committee composed of Genevra Hazen and Fern Cloak was appointed to further another club project this year, the buying of shoes for needy children.

A sum of money was voted towards camperships for the Y. W. C. A. and the Girl Scouts.

The chief feature of the business transactions was the election of officers. Dorothy Sankey was named president; Elizabeth Dietterele, vice president; Isabelle Leslie, recording secretary; Edith Cleaveland, corresponding secretary; Fern Cloak, treasurer.

Miss Owens introduced Jack Boyles, who is identified with the Shenango Pottery, as the guest speaker. He gave an informative talk on china from beginning to end, showing many lovely pieces of the finished product.

GOLD STAR MOTHERS BANQUETED TUESDAY

Surpassing all previous affairs of the kind extending over a period of many years, the Service Star Legion banquet Tuesday evening in the Legion Home for Gold Star mothers, was a distinct success.

About 60 guests were present, everybody friendly and congenial, and there was an abundance of good things for the feast, as that was foresightedly arranged by a capable committee.

Mrs. Carrie Wehr was the youngest Gold Star mother in attendance, and she was presented with a beautiful picture of Whistler's mother, by Mrs. Robert Fulton. Mrs. Anna Gorst, another prominent Gold Star mother, had the distinction of presenting Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, president of Service Star, with a lovely potted plant. Corsages fashioned with yellow rose buds in the center, were given to each Gold Star mother, Mrs. Mamie Ryan tendering these mementoes on behalf of the group.

The program was furnished by Rev. Philip C. Pearson, of Trinity Episcopal church, who earlier had asked the invocation at dinner. He gave an excellent talk on the theme "Mothers' Part in Bringing About World Peace." He paid a high tribute to all mothers, Gold Star mothers especially.

Previously Mrs. Elizabeth Miller had extended a cordial welcome to the assembly, and there was music by the Hi-Lo boys. Miss Frances Coe contributed a reading entitled "She Mothered Five," followed by another high tribute to mothers by Mrs. Evelyn Woods.

Two state officers were present last night, Mrs. Lyda Collins, of Pittsburgh, state president, and Mrs. Rose Oskins, Pittsburgh, treasurer of Allegheny county veterans' hospital committee, who by the way is also a department past president.

Other special guests were Mrs. Mary Wilson, president American Legion auxiliary; Mrs. Tempa Stickle, president McBride auxiliary, V. F. W.

The program closed with everybody joining in the song "Blessed Be the Tie That Binds," with Eleanor Runkle at the piano.

FIFTY-FIVE MILLION FIGHTING MEN

THE $416,000,000 which the House recently voted for the Army in the next fiscal year is described as the largest peacetime appropriation in American history for purely military activities. But although it represents a $25,000,000 increase over this year's allotment, there is no need for even the most extreme pacifists to worry.

An addition of only 6000 will be made to the present regular force of 156,000 men. A handful of fifty commissioned officers will supplement the 12,125 now in service. The 200,000 members of the National Guard will be increased by 5000. Army pay will cost only $3,000,000 more, making a total of $161,000,000.

A survey by American military authorities, just made public, shows that among forty-eight nations the United States is nineteenth in the number of men trained for war. The total of the world's soldiers is listed as 55,000,000. This country has about 474,000 counting the reserves.

Soviet Russia, with 1,545,000 regulars, has the world's largest standing army. Its trained soldiers number 19,490,000. Italy has an army of 1,331,000 and a total of 6,294,000 men trained to fight. The regular forces of France and Germany number about 650,000 each and of the British Empire 384,000. Japan has 282,000 soldiers.

Little Switzerland, with 600,000 trained reserves to supplement her tiny army of 309 men, for generations has set an example of the democratic method of national defense. In the opinion of experts, her soldiers are second to none.

The spectacle of 55,000,000 trained soldiers, with 7,500,000 actually under arms, grimly suggests that the day may be far distant when wars shall cease and peace shall reign over all the earth. But in postponement of that day, which few can believe is near at hand, the United States is playing no part, suggests the Philadelphia Inquirer. On the contrary, it has just committed itself to a new kind of neutrality involving heavy financial sacrifices if necessary to keep war away from its shores.

There is no spirit of militarism abroad in this land, no coveting of others' territory, no desire for conquest. Our modest military establishment in a world of armed camps is designed solely for defense and as insurance against the greatest evil that can befall any nation.

RAIN OR SHINE

It is our experience with summers that they are either unusually hot, unusually cool, unusually dry or unusually wet.

A summer that is normal in every respect apparently doesn't exist; in fact, it is difficult to think of one that is normal in any respect.

Summers have been fairly consistently unusual, with the result that in the summer at least there is generally something to talk about. Winters, on the other hand, grow more and more staid and uninteresting with the unfortunate result that people are unable to converse with each other during the cold months, and probably go to the movies.

We are unable at this time to supply a commentary on fall and spring. They come and go so fast they are scarcely more than punctuation marks between our rather dull winters and fairly exciting summers.

FOR THEIR OWN SAFETY

The type of highway accident most in the news now is not the one in which a pedestrian is the victim—though a fearful number of pedestrians are killed from week to week—but the one in which motorists are wiped out or mangled.

Each week-end considerable space in the news columns is devoted to accounts of persons smashed up in head-on collisions, or in encounters with roadside trees, or railroad trains, or in tumbles over hill and mountain sides.

Hundreds of people have died in such ways since the first of January and thousands haye been hurt, largely because somebody else was reckless, criminally careless or drunk.

The biggest single trouble is excessive speed, especially at night.

When will motorists wake up to the fact that they must obey traffic regulations and the rule of reason and be satisfied with fewer miles per hour for their own sakes, to save their own lives?

RAILROADS REDUCING ECONOMIC WASTE

When a railroad pays claims for freight lost or damaged, no one gains and everyone loses. It is pure economic waste. Thus, the problem of reducing loss due to these causes doesn't affect just railroads and shippers. It affects the whole public—everyone who uses a train for any purpose.

In 1920, railroad payments for loss and damage to freight totaled nearly $120,000,000. Last year payments were about $20,000,000. This remarkable reduction is the result of years of study, research and work by both the rails and shippers.

To carry the campaign against waste still further, it is now proposed to declare open season on the causes of loss and damage. All shipments arriving damaged are to be examined carefully for evidence of the cause, and a detailed report made to shipper or carrier, whichever is thought responsible. Packing materials, methods of packing, overloading of cartons, improper labeling of destructible goods, quality of wrapping—such matters as these will be carefully studied with a view to attaining "perfect shipping"—shipping without any loss or damage.

This is another example of the many that can be cited, of how railroads and shippers are working together for greater economy nad efficiency in transportation. Every business in the country reaps the benefits, as does every traveler and user of railroad service—economic waste is inevitably reflected in the cost of any service. The railroads have done wonders in reducing damage—and now they are out to come as close as possible to the ideal of its total elimination.

It is significant that for the last few years there has been no talk of giving the country back to the Indians.

Yet Dad can remember when there was no excitement after dark except a moth inside the lamp chimney.

Recovery has its disadvantages. Railroad people are again baffled by the problem of finding new names for Pullman cars.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

P. T. A. AIDS CITIZENSHIP

It seems to me that the Parent-Teacher association has a rare opportunity facing it right now, to turn the attention of parents to the need of training their children early in the alphabet of citizenship.

It is true that the local, state and national groups have had rich programs on citizenship and character building, and they have drawn up strong general resolutions on the subject. But if my observations are correct, neither they nor other similar organizations have centered their attention on the vital elements in good citizenship, namely regard for the rights of others, and respect for constituted authority. Have you heard these items emphasized in a local, state or National P. T. A. meeting, or in any other meeting of parents?

These virtues presuppose the early learning of restraint, and restraint is almost a forgotten word. One might conclude, indeed, from many an address to parents, from articles and books written to parents, or discussions in parent study groups led by certain experts, that restraint is a cardinal sin. Some writers have gone so far as to indicate that mental disorders and crime are caused chiefly by restraint or inhibition, and that the way to make people good and mentally healthy is to free them from all restraints.

Don't Believe It

You and I don't believe in such pernicious doctrine—at least I don't.

The rank and file of good fathers and mothers, the fathers and mothersers who make up the leading citizens who are looked up to in their communities, who are the pillars of the church, of civic organizations and parent-teacher organizations, are those who come from homes where they were trained in early childhood in the alphabet of inhibitions, in the meaning of "NO" in regard for the rights of others, and respect for authority. And they enjoy far better mental health as a rule than other people do.

Since the members of the P. T. A. represent the good substantial citizens of any neighborhood; since they are an organization with a broad educational outlook, and since they as an organization are highly respected in their community, state and nation, see how much more good they might do now with a concerted drive on behalf of better home citizenship.

All Of Us

YOU MUST ANSWER THE DOORBELL

EVEN IF YOU are busy you must answer the doorbell.

It may be nobody you care to see, but you must answer it just the same. It may be the brush man, or a magazine solicitor. It may be an old fellow selling dried apricots or another old man wondering if you'll let him cut the grass. Or a bill collector. Or a policeman. Or a neighbor. Or a friend you haven't seen for years. It may be joy . . . embarrassment . . . irritation . . . an opportunity . . . any of these things. You must meet it!

When the doorbell rings you must go and open the door—to shut it again as soon as possible or to swing it wide and welcome the one who rang the bell.

Some people can go right on with whatever they are doing when the front doorbell rings—or disconnect the bell so it doesn't ring at all. Or they can refuse to answer the telephone. They let it ring and ring and ring and do nothing about it. How wonderful to have such a strong will! How odd to have such little curiosity! . . . We don't do that! We answer the doorbell, we rush to the telephone. A bore may be at the door, the call may be just a wrong number, not for us. But we MUST answer it. We're ordinary folk and we can't help it.

We must answer doorbells, we must answer Life. We cannot sit in a little room and wait for Life to break the door down. We cannot hide away . . . or dream . . . or sulk . . . or suffer. We must open the door and meet Life. If we do not open the door, we may never know what we've missed, but we'll regret it all our life. Some day we'll say to ourselves, "I should have gone to the door. I should have opened it to Life. What a fool I was that day, when I didn't take a chance, when I thought other things were more important. I'll never do THAT again, I'll never be so foolish!"

You rage at life because so much of it is trivial and impudent and time-wasting and unimportant, but you must meet it when it calls . . . because you never can know . . . you never can tell . . . and you may be sorry if you don't . . . and you may say to yourself, too late, "I should have lived, and I didn't!"

We live by opening doors to Life.

The municipal plants of the nation represent a value of about $600,000,000 and their gross annual earnings come to $120,000,000. And where the private utilities pay around fifteen per cent of their

A rat eats everything that a man eats, it kills poultry, it destroys clothing, it undermines buildings, it causes fires and it carries contagious diseases. A rat is distinctly man's enemy, and no one has ever risen to explain the why of the rat.

Uncle Sam has a precious Bible. It is the one used in the Supreme Court. It is a very tiny little book, only five inches and a half wide. It is bound in bright red morocco leather, with the word "Bible" printed in diminutive gold letters on the back. But one does not see that red morocco cover unless he removes the little black leather slip which protects it. Long, long ago the little red Bible began to show wear, and then the black leather slip was made to protect it—so long ago in fact that fifteen of those covers made to protect that venerated little volume were worn out in the service. It is the book upon which since 1800 every chief justice, with the single exception of Chief Justice Chase, and every member of the Supreme Court, has taken the oath of allegiance when accepting his appointment to our highest tribunal. More than that, every attorney who has practiced before the Supreme Court since that date, 1800, has pledged his allegiance—all, with one exception also, and that exception was Daniel Webster. It is told even yet of the Supreme Court of that day that Mr. Webster's fame as an orator had so preceded him that on the occasion when he came to argue his first case before the court the clerk, in his eagerness to hear the great speaker, forgot to administer the oath.

Wonder what would happen if the taxpayers would go on a strike and refuse to pay up? The taxpayers are in the minority, but what a figure a strike by them would cut. The big majority would have to do something, and one of the things would be to pay taxes to help keep up the government, which they are not doing now.

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Pat. Office.

By FRANCINE MARKEL

DEAR MISS MARKEL — Please tell me how long one should wear mourning for (1) a husband or wife; (2) a parent. Is all white considered mourning?—B. T.

Answer — There are now no specific rules governing the wearing of mourning, as one's own feeling of grief should be the sole criterion in this matter.

Many people now refuse to believe that the wearing of mourning is any index to the grief felt by the bereaved; hence, many who feel the deepest sorrow at the passing of a loved one now make no such outward manifestation.

Most people do, however, wear mourning for a year after the death of a husband or a wife and from three months to a year for a parent. You will be above criticism if you abide by this rule.

To be absolutely consistent, one wearing deep mourning should avoid gay places of amusement, such as night clubs, musical comedies and the like, although no one could justly criticize a bereaved person for seeking the diversion of a play, a musicale or a motion picture. As soon as she accepts the attention of other men, a widow should shed her weeds worn for her husband.

Either all black or all white is in good taste for mourning attire, provided it is of the proper material. Lace, satin and velvet (except uncut velvet) are not correct for mourning; neither are patent leather or satin shoes.

Your dress for such a period should be of dull, lusterless silk or plain woolen with suede or kid shoes.

But the signature was a strange one, and the father called personally at divisional headquarters, declaring that the signature was not his son's. He was informed that his son had been killed in action. He'd been working all the morning

But a dude at useful labor I have

It was a great novelty, since not more than five or six tunes were known to congregations, and those were sung by rote.

Some religious leaders declared it was calculated to corrupt the church. Their followers went to services to howl down the book singers! Stories of frequent disturbances in churches appear in files of the New England Courant of 200 years ago.

Marx's mother, Henrietta, never forgave Karl for giving up the legal career that might have been his. In her old age she was heard to express the petulent wish that he had made capital instead of writing about it.

Though his Das Kapital is a testament of so-called workers' parties, Marx never did a day's labor in his life!

Alexander Selkirk was also still alive when the novel based on his life, "Robinson Crusoe" became a success. His own version of the story was a literary flop.

Argument Over Ships, Planes On

Sinking Of Espana Held Up As Warning To Advocates Of Battle Ships

MITCHELL CASE IS RECALLED NOW

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Military aviators are boiling with enthusiasm over the news of the recent sinking of the rebel Spanish battleship Espana by loyalist Spanish planes off the port of Bilbao as an incident of the civil war in that part of the world.

It has long been disputed between experts whether or not aircraft are to be much relied on against surface vessels under actual war conditions.

Airmen have contended that their arm has made surface navies practically obsolete. Surface navigators have argued that, while planes undoubtedly are valuable for observation purposes, they are not likely ever to prove very effective against ships at sea.

LAND VS. SEA

A plane, spilling "pineapples" upon the land underneath, is recognized as a frightful danger to be reckoned with; even if it doesn't hit the exact target it aims at it may be counted on to hit something else just as good.

But a ship is different; if it is missed it is missed completely and nothing except a splash in the ocean results. Aviators do say, indeed, that a narrowly missed shot will joggle the water sufficiently to start a surface vessel's plates, but the surface men's reasoning is that most shots will miss far more than narrowly.

A layman has not been in a position to judge.

He naturally suspects the surface folk of being, perhaps, back numbers—unwilling to concede that their profession is out of date. Contrariwise, he suspects aviation of being overly confident of the deadliness of its own craft.

MITCHELL'S TEST

Several years ago the late Gen. "Billy" Mitchell, of the army's aviation corps, undertook to prove the aviationists' case.

The government let him have an unfinished, condemned, unmanned warship, anchored off the Virginia Capes, to practice on. The general sent the hulk to Davy Jones' locker all right with his airplane bombs.

Surface naval folk, however, maintained that this was not a fair test.

Their story was that a ship under headway, dodging around, would have been harder to hit. They asserted, moreover, that anti-aircraft shots would have kept the assailant at a distance—too far away for an accurate aim, or maybe bringing him down. Anyway, they insisted, he could not have continued trying indefinitely, again and again.

MITCHELL EASED OUT

The row was so bitter that Mitchell, for his unparliamentary remarks concerning surface fighters, was court martialed and eased out of the military service.

It was not a discreditable retirement but it was effective.

The surface-ites won the debate.

The surface-ites have tried shooting at land planes, too. The land planes trail behind them a contraption known as a "sleeve", which the anti-aircraft gunners try to hit. But they must not be too accurate, or they may puncture the aircraft itself rather than the "sleeve". And public opinion would not sanction the slaughter of some aviators for purely experimental purposes.

Now, however, it appears from the Espana's fate that aviation really can sink a man-o'-war.

Or was it a mere fluke?

The surface folk say that that was what it was.

The aviators say that their contention is established.

The dispute isn't ended but the aviators have made a point.

MAY MEAN MUCH

These little engagements sometimes count a great deal.

Years ago, when Japan and China had a war, the Battle of the Yalu river was a small affair. Yet it transformed naval construction.

According to a story from Berlin, persons close to the case of Helmuth Hirsch, 21-year-old youth who is under sentence to die for what is supposed to have been a plan to assassinate Adolf Hitler with explosives, predict his sentence will be communited to life imprisonment. Only Der Fuehrer can do that, however. A decision is expected within a week. Hirsch claims American citizenship because his father was naturalized here in New Castle.

Clarence Gibson, 25, of Pomeroy, Pa., was admitted to Mercer Cottage hospital in an unconscious condition after a motorist found him lying beside the Perry highway this side of Mercer. Examination revealed no injuries. It is believed he had been overcome by illness. Letters in his pocket established his identity.

Sheriff Clyde G. Scowden and State Police Corporal William Brush of Mercer, escaped injury Monday when the county automobile in which they were riding turned over three times after leaving the Mercer-Sharon road at Wallace Hill, coming to rest on its wheels. They said they were forced off the road by another car which failed to stop.

Forest fires in the tri-county area of Westmoreland, Somerset and Fayette counties are under control now but they have caused firefighters some breathless moments. Fields and forests are unusually dry for this time of the year, officials say, and the crop of picnickers is unusually large. Beaver county had some fires over the week-end, also, and as a result there has been some talk there of having the governor forbid entry into the woods until the condition changes.

They complain about the Irish being unable to agree on the pronunciation of their president de Valera's name, but there are just as many Americans who pronounces Roosevelt with a "ruse" instead of "rose." As for de Valera, some Irishmen say "erie" and some say "air."

Beason, 60, of Pleasantville, was painfully hurt in an automobile accident near Reno, Pa., the fourth in a series of accidents in which he or members of his family have been involved in the past couple of years. Mr. Beason and his sister-in-law were injured in 1934 in an auto accident three months after his wife was killed in a fall from their car. A married daughter of the couple was killed during the previous year in an auto crash.

Unless women quit wearing hats that look like they were designed by a surrealist painter suffering from astigmatism, the American birth rate is going to dwindle to the point where animals will take over the country. So says Mrs. Helen Washburn, of New York, who knows all about hats, husbands and birth rates.

Registration days for rural voters have been set by County Commissioners George H. Bolinger, Floyd L. Cotton and Joseph Hannon. The days will be June 8, July 6 and August 10.

The days have been set in accordance with the recent legislation which provides that rural voters must be registered permanently in the same fashion as city voters are now registered.

Steps have been taken to procure sufficient cases, files, and other equipment necessary for the new registration and as soon as possible this will be put into place.

On the days specified two registrars will sit in the various election districts outside the city of New Castle. These registrars will be appointed by the county commissioners subject to the recommendation of the chairmen of the Republican and Democratic parties.

Following the registration it will then be possible to register or change registration only at the court house in the office of the chief clerk of the registry commission Thomas C. Edmunds.

In the meantime the commissioners are going to be without a home it seems. The present registration office is not large enough to accommodate both city and county files and the present private office of the commissioners will have to be used. This will force the commissioners to seek other quarters and try and find them.

About the only thing they can do is build a temporary office in the lobby of the court house or else get a nice roomy tent and pitch it out on the lawn.

The primary election this year will be held on Tuesday, September 14, and already the candidates are "seeing people". By the first of June the field will begin to shape up, it is thought, and then for a long hard summer of campaigning.

This year's primary will see a lot of offices on the ballot. Judge, district attorney, sheriff, two city councilmen, three school directors and a city controller. With the exception of school director they are offices that are always warmly contested.

STUDEBAKER SALES CLIMB AS AMERICA CHECKS UP ON THIS CHALLENGE

THE 1937 DICTATOR IS America's finest 6-cylinder car!

ACTUAL PHOTOGRAPH

Ahead OF ALL 9 OTHER SIXES IN VALUE

SIXES that cost more, as well as sixes that cost the same or less, fail to stand up against the Dictator under the spotlight of comparison. And the public as well as Studebaker is benefiting by the triumph.

Built with care and soundness that are not duplicated in any other six, the low-priced beautifully contoured Dictator has the world's strongest, safest, quietest steel body with a paint finish twelve coats deep. Its exceptionally spacious interior is richly styled by Helen Dryden. Its big trunks are by far more capacious than those of any other six.

It's the world's first six to offer the automatic hill holder plus feather-touch hydraulic brakes ... the world's first six to offer the dual economy of the Fram oil cleaner and gas-saving automatic overdrive ... the world's only six with non-slam doors that close tightly at a touch. See it and drive it and learn why it's selling so sensationally!

THIS STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA

DANIEL BOONE

Do you know that although Daniel Boone was born in Berks county, Kentucky uses the name of this pioneer frontiersman to publicise its state?

Daniel Boone went to Kentucky in his younger days and had many thrilling adventures as a pioneer. The story history records about Boone is of interest to every boy and girl. Grownups, however, in reading literature mailed by the State of Kentucky to prospective tourists get the impression that Boone was a native Kentuckian. Until recently Pennsylvania was lax in advertising its places of historic interest. Daniel Boone's birthplace, southeast of Reading off route 422, has an inestimable value from the standpoint of attractive tourists. Locally it can yet serve as a community "acre of diamond". The Pennsylvania Scenic and Historic commission will give wide publicity to this and other equally interesting historic sites within the Keystone state.

DIVER RESCUES TEETH

In a deep-water diving suit a man descended to the bottom of a hot springs pool at Aliwal North, South Africa, to search for a set of false teeth. After staying under for five minutes he returned to the surface with the molars clutched in his hand.

J. O. Y. BANQUET FOR MOTHERS, DAUGHTERS

J. O. Y. class members of the First Baptist church held their annual "mothers and daughters" banquet in the church dining room Tuesday evening, with guests numbering over 40 in attendance.

At 6:30 o'clock the group was served at long tables cleverly appointed in tones of pink and white. Flowers were used for centerpieces, and dainty rosebuds marked the places of all mothers present. Mrs. A. Sturdy gave the invocation and an appropriate reading entitled "Mothers" was given shortly afterwards by Mrs. Motgomery Rodgers.

A program later held attention, with a quartet giving the opening by singing a group of selections. Those taking part were Mrs. Ethel Patterson, Mrs. Alberta Myers, Mrs. Navada Snyder and Mrs. Fannie Harlan, with Mrs. Mabel McCartney at the piano.

A vocal solo was contributed by little Grace Adel Rodgers, entitled "Two Roses" Following a toast to mothers by Mrs. Anna Maxwell, a toast to the daughters was given by Mrs. Charles T. Metzler, teacher of the class.

Mrs. C. H. Heaton was guest speaker, and she gave a most inspiring address on "The Greatest Joys of Womanhood".

The awarding of a special token to the eldest mother of the class members in attendance was a later feature. Mrs. James Elliott received this remembrance, and Mrs. C. H. Heaton also shared when presented with a similar gift.

RECENT BRIDE IS HONORED BY CLASS

Mrs. Harry Wyman nee Isabel Bryan, a bride of recent date, was taken by surprise at her residence on Sheridan avenue Monday evening, when the members of the True Blue class of the Third U. P. church invaded her home.

The occasion was in the form of a miscellaneous shower, the guest of honor being the recipient of a collection of lovely gifts.

The time was spent in a delightfully informal manner, music and other avenues of pastime claiming attention. At an appropriate hour, a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. George Glass, assisted by Mrs. Charles McMillen, Florence Mortimer, and Annabelle Rogers.

DuPUY-McCONAHY WEDDING TUESDAY

The wedding of Vivian Irene DuPuy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry DuPuy's Porter street, New Castle, and Eugene A. McConahy, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. McConahy, East New Castle, took place at New Cumberland, West Va., at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, May 4, which is of interest to many. The single ring service was used, with the Rev. Ivan Hoyland, pastor of the Methodist church of New Cumberland, officiating.

Attendants were Mrs. Carl Teckelt, a sister of the bride, who was married on January 15 at New Cumberland, and an aunt, Harriet Samuels, both of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. McConahy will dispense with a wedding trip until later in the summer, and for the present have taken up residence at the home of her parents on Porter street. He is a plumber by trade.

MRS. ELLIOTT TO SPEAK AT BANQUET

This is the time of the year when mothers and daughters enjoy getting together on special occasions of a social nature, in observance of the annual day set apart for the former in May.

By the number of banquets, parties, dinners and similar accounts in today's news, this year promises to be outstanding, with still other events being scheduled daily in prominent groups.

Nice progress is being made on the annual banquet for mothers and daughters of the First M. E. church, which will take place on Friday evening, at 6:30 in the church dining room.

Mrs. W. O. Mayberry has secured as guest speaker, Mrs. J. E. Elliott, and there will be other features. All women in the church are invited, and if they can attend, they are to contact Mrs. John W. Black.

1932 Club Entertained

Mrs. John A. Earl, West Washington street extension, delightfully entertained members of the 1932 club in her home, Tuesday afternoon. The main diversion of the day was the playing of 500, with high score prizes being awarded to Mrs. Tillie Hartman and to Mrs. Earl Waddington.

One special guest, Mrs. Mary Hagan, enjoyed the hospitality of the club. Next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Tillie Hartman, Croton avenue, in two weeks.

BANQUET TUESDAY AT CENTRAL CHURCH

At Central Presbyterian church this year, the annual Mothers and Daughters banquet was sponsored jointly, by the S. of D. Missionary society and Mrs. Oscar Rhodes' class.

The affair took place Tuesday evening, in the church dining room with a large attendance of over 65. Special guests were Mrs. Lucy Pettitt, Mrs. Elsie Lash, Miss Margaretta Hess, Miss Helen Ewing, Mrs. Mable Lewis, Misses Mildred Webber and Jane Porter.

Mrs. Herman Decker supervised the table decorations emphasizing yellow and green tones, the effect being decidedly pretty. Places were marked with small baskets in the two shades, holding candy mints, and centerpieces were mixed flowers and green tapers.

Mrs. Oliver McNees directed an unusually fine program which follows: assembly song, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart"; recitation, "Just For You", Alice Moore; recitation, "The Magic Word", Mona Lou Owens; song, "When I Grow Too Old To Dream", assembly.

Miss Helen McCollum gave the toast to the mothers, while Mrs. Oscar Rhodes in turn, responded for the daughters. There was a solo by Jo Anne McCollum entitled "Little Old Lady", with piano accompaniment by Margaretta Hess.

Recitation, "Before It Is Too Late," Roberta Cooper; song, "A Wild Irish Rose", assembly.

Six little girls took part in an exercise entitled "The Sweetest Word". Those participating were four Shirleys—Shirley Coryea, Shirley Kennedy, Shirley Himebaugh, Shirley Gaston, Arelene Conway and Betty Coryea.

Leslie Wilson contributed a violin solo, "My Mother's Prayer", with Mildred Webber playing the musical accompaniment. "Sad Effects of Good Intentions" was the title of another reading by Jean Porter.

The assembly sang the "Missouri Waltz", followed by a duet, "Mother", by Shirley and Betty Coryea. Delores Moore played an able accompaniment. For assembly singing, Mrs. Ben Owens played the piano and Miss Margaretta Hess led the singing.

Still another feature was a most interesting talk by Mrs. Marie Roof, president, and when she had finished her remarks, Mrs. Oscar Rhodes, class teacher, was given a lovely gift from the class. The latter made an acceptance speech which was considered wonderfully impressive.

"Moonlight and Roses" was most appropriately sung by the entire group to conclude one of the most delightful Mothers-Daughters affairs of the spring.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

revenues in taxes, the muncipal utilities pay about one per cent.

This means that consumers of private utilities must pay part of the bill for customers of municipal utilities, because tax-exempt property necessitates higher taxes on all other property. A similar situation obtains in the case of Federal Electric plants, of which TVA is so far the most conspicuous example. TVA pays no Federal taxes, it is forced by law to pay certain sums to two states in lieu of taxes. These sums are so small, that if TVA were taxed on the same basis as the private utilities in the region, it would have to pay to the states about 200 times as much as it actually pays!

This dangerous situation is made worse by the fact that when a government operation, such as TVA takes over property formely privately owned, the state is deprived of revenue, at the expense of all its taxpayers.

It is certainly obvious that there can be no fair electric rate "yardsticks" and no reasonable competition, until publicly owned utilities are forced to pay taxes on the same basis as private utilities. If public ownership advocates are sincere in their professed belief that their plants can serve the public cheaply and efficiently, when all costs are considered, they will welcome a fair test and offer no objections to taxation of governmental enterprises in the business field.

AROUND CITY HALL

J. Myron Rice, public safety director, today stated that he has not abandoned the idea of a public fire alarm signal. However, he expressed the opinion that the best kind of a signal would be one that would sound only on second and general alarms. He said that information is being collected on a compressed air type. He said that insofar as steam is concerned it is difficult to secure sufficient steam seven days a week. A siren could not be used except to sound one blast. A compressed air alarm system, he said would sound the number of the box from which the alarms was turned in.

Roof at Rainbow Terrace, Cascade Park, is being repaired, preparatory to the opening of the dance season, according to city officials. It is said that everything being equal B. J. Dr. William L. Steen stated today that Sanitary Policeman Chauncey Davis and members of the city department of police have investigated sanitary conditions at a number of places in the city where liquor is dispensed. Food Dealers Have Meeting

Uniform Opening And Closing Hours Are Discussed On Tuesday Night

SEVERAL SPEAKERS ARE ALSO HEARD

Legislative matters of vital importance to the grocery industry, an informal discussion relative to uniform opening and closing hours of stores in New Castle, and the presentation of a delightful program were among the features of Tuesday night's open meeting of Lawrence county food dealers, grocers, employes and wholesale representatives held in Orr's hall, Grove street. Approximately 300 persons were in attendance.

When the matter of uniform opening and closing hours was introduced for discussion, keen interest was displayed by the gathering. The consensus of opinion was that stores in New Castle should be open daily from 8 to 5 and on Saturdays from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. Plans are now under way to adopt uniform hours.

Hear Speakers.

The meeting continued with a report by S. E. West of Ellwood City, who spoke about the uniform hours for grocery stores in Ellwood City. Ray Bradley of Youngstown, the next speaker, gave an interesting report about the uniform hour problem in the Ohio city. One of the highlights of the event was an address on "Organization and Cooperation" by W. Herbert Smith, energetic president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. His address proved most inspiring.

George Herbert, president of the Lawrence County Food Dealers Retail Grocers and Food Dealers association, and J. W. Rupert, executive secretary of the same organization, were elected as Lawrence county delegates to the state convention in York, Pa., on May 10 and 11. Announcement was also made that this year's annual grocers' outing will be held at Cascade park on July 28.

Program Presented.

A delightful program followed. An all girls orchestra offered snappy tunes during the presentation, scoring a big hit. Michael Turco, well known local singer, sang two numbers which met with the approval of the group. Standard Brands then presented a talking picture entitled "Showmanship in the Grocery Industry". Norma Jane Fishburn followed with a solo and toe dance. Earl Hammond also gave a solo. The program ended with dance selection by Miss Fishburn and Mr. Hammond.

The affair ended with the serving of delicious refreshments. The meeting was a success from every standpoint.

The committee in charge included: J. W. Rupert, Frank W. Hill, C. E. Anderson, Ray Earl, R. Frediana, George Brown, A. C. Miller, William Alexander, C. H. Dart, T. H. Hitchcock, Sam Slovan, Phil Colucci, Mrs. George Goebel, Mrs. Alice Patterson, Mrs. Ella Lamson, S. E. West, Mrs. Ruth Matthews, Harry Blosch, Frank Ruscetti, Albert Shoaff, George Horchler and George Latsko.

Labor Assembly Delegates Meet

Trades-Labor Body Hears Activity Reports; Plans Labor Day

Representing 24 Lawrence county labor unions, a group of 48 delegates attended a regular meeting of the New Castle Trades & Labor Assembly in the assembly's hall in the Wallace building last night. They heard numerous labor matters discussed.

Secretary John P. Brogan reported today that the delegates took up tentative plans for Lawrence county's monster Labor Day rally at Cascade Park in the fall, a rally he said would exceed others in color and attendance. All labor organizations will join in the celebration, he said.

Secretary Brogan announced that delegates heard that 11 local barber shops have been reorganized within recent weeks by the barbers' local, that the truck drivers and helpers local reported that several local firms have signed working agreements with that union.

The Labor Day observance, for which Cascade has been reserved, will feature a parade from the down town to the park.

The assembly last night named a committee to revise by-laws of the organization to take care of the current labor questions.

WOLVES ENJOY SPECIAL EVENT

Ladies' Night Program Is Enjoyed; Welcome Given To Sam Ross

Wolves club members proved gracious hosts on Tuesday evening in the Elks club, North Mill street, when they presented their ladies' night program.

The occasion got under way with serving of a delicious chicken dinner.

President Carm Sacco delivered a brief speech in which he welcomed the women present, and Sam Ross of 222 Edgewood avenue, who has been confined to his home for the past several months. The event was a combination ladies' night and party honoring the return of Sam Ross, President Sacco said. Sacco then introduced Angelo J. Casacchio, chairman of the entertainment committee, who also welcomed the return of Ross.

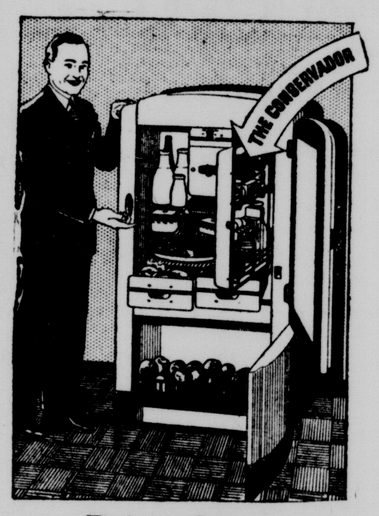

The program continued with the presentation of an amateur show, most of the performers being from Youngstown. Amil Lelenko, of this city, as master-of-ceremonies, scored a decided hit, as did Jack McCullough, who rendered several saxophone solos. The show proved most enjoyable. The group whiled away the remainder of the hours playing cards.

During the course of the event William Mooney, a new member of the Wolves, was introduced and P. P. Capitola, Jr., was present with a gift honoring his birthday anniversary. The affair was another triumph of the entertainment committee, comprised of Angelo J. Casacchia, chairman, Dr. John Prioletti and Al Sferra.

The Wolves will meet jointly with the Kiwanis club Tuesday evening, May 18, in the Elks club at 6:30 o'clock.

Theater World Changes About

Benny Field Now Tops While His Wife, Blossom Seeley, Is In Eclipse

GEORGE COHAN IN RETIREMENT

NEW YORK, May 5.—Theatrical history has nothing to compare to the shuffle that sent Benny Fields to a top position and his wife and long-time teammate, Blossom Seeley, into comparative eclipse. For years Miss Seeley was the headliner of their standard vaudeville act.

O. O. McIntyre

On the programs her name in thick type was followed by a small agate line, "With Benny Fields". Singing in the same fashion he had employed for almost a decade and at a time both were jobless and almost broke, Fields suddenly became a rousing sensation.

He was the original crooner who was left at the post by the younger Vallees and Crosbys and then galloped under the wire away out front. Engagements were offered in cabarets, on the radio and in Hollywood. His name studded the Broadway lights in story book fashion.

To many artistic couples this might have meant domestic crack-up. But it didn't for them. Miss Seeley is always nearby, beaming with pride, when he sings. He in turn is showering her with jewels, fine furs and a villa on Long Island. They are rightfully very happy.

They have been missing George M. Cohan in several of his accustomed haunts of late. Many say the usual nectar of his life has turned a bit bitter. He still grieves for his old friend and companion on nights out, Steve Reardon, the former policeman and Celtic wit. His teaming up again with his old partner, Sam Harris, and the flop of their first play were also disquieting. And he was emotionally upset by the long illness of his daughter Georgette and a tragic automobile accident in which his son figured. Those who know declare he has grown unusually grave in his demeanor and spends much of his time walking alone in Central Park. They also nope it is a temporary touch of temperament, for Broadway and the theater need Cohan as never before. In the words of praise he so often bestows on others: He's a great little guy.

It strikes non-radicals as a hopeful sign that most of the propaganda novels—variously identified as "working class", "revolutionary", "proletarian" and so forth, after being advertised in a big way, sell less than 5,000 copies. While "Gone With the Wind", without a trace of communism, and full of rousing patriotism, records more than a million. Also, in spite of the fact that radical reviewers, and that includes many in the metropolitan area, either turned it down completely or give it the faint praise that damns. Some of these days the insidious history of radical propaganda books and their tieups with communists masquerading as honest critics is going to reach the open. And when it does it is going to shock a lot of people in Washington as well as the great American reading public.

Around the airports they will tell you that just a little flying often makes one inarticulate and that a seasoned aviator is about the most silent of human beings. Even the debonair Harry Richman began to slow up with his accustomed wisecracking after his flight to Europe. Of course, everybody knows Lindbergh's taciturnity. As well as that of Amelia Earhart and Howard Hughes. Just a dozen flights or so and the most garrulous begin to grow scanty with talk. No one knows why. Just one of those things.

Then the moot question of waiters wearing glasses. A waiter in spectacles is almost an oddity. Of course, many who serve have glasses, but do not wear them on duty. In many restaurants, like old Delmonico's, glasses for waiters are taboo. Several reasons are advanced. Some say it makes them look too haughty with the customers and that many will avoid them. On the other hand it is a psychological fact that few restaurant patrons ever look into a waiter's face. Often they have to inquire, in demanding the check, which waiter is serving them.

The metamorphosis of Eddy Duchin is among the interesting phenomena of the town. A few years ago he was a gangling, raw-boned dance orchestra pianist who seemed mostly knuckles and teeth against a backround of an enormous blush. Today he is the baton wielders' No. 1 It Man, a suave, and graceful figure who wears evening clothes like a Menjou, knows how to murmur graceful compliments and can fill the most aristocratic grills with beautiful ladies who just want to sit and admire.

A polite character in our town prefaces the answer to every question with a "Yes sir." The other day he faced the Mayor for tarrying too long at the flowing bowl and was fined $1 and costs. When asked by His Honor if he had the amount he replied:

"Yes sir, I have not."

Amber Fog Lights Legal For Autos

Use Of Fog Lights On Automobiles Still Allowed Under New Inspection

With the coming of the new automobile inspection period which opened Saturday, May 1, motorists learn that no ban has yet been placed on the use of the amber fog lights on automobiles.

Inspection stations were given instructions to abide by those issued for former inspections. Fog lights, however, may not be higher than 42 inches from the ground. It is also illegal to use the amber light while driving on the highway at night, without the use of the other headlights. Use of parking, or dimmed lights with the idea of using the fog light as the source of light is also not permitted.

The new stickers for the windshields are a yellow color with a blue border. They are not as thick as the last stickers were, and do not contain any driving information on the reverse side. They must be mounted in the lower right hand corner of the windshield, and in no circumstances may they be placed at the top of the glass.

According to the latest registration figures, 10,724 stickers will be needed for New Castle owned vehicles. A flat service rate of 75 cents is charged for an inspection, making a total of $8,043 to go to the garage owners. A small portion of this is taken by the state to cover the expense of making the stickers.

Example of moulding public opinion: Ten who agree mutter, "How true!" Forty who disagree cry, "Boloney!"

Ten-Foot Marble Horse By Highway Draws Attention

Giant Marble Horse At Chardon, Ohio, Attracts Attention Of Tourists

(International News Service)

CHARDON, O., May 5.—Tourists on the Cleveland-Meadville highway usually stop in awe when passing through Windsor, east of here, for one of the town's chief attractions is a ten-foot high marble statue of a horse.

The statue was erected more than 50 years ago by Ellsworth Hamilton, a circus proprietor, in memory of "Sir Henry," a trick horse which P. T. Barnum attempted to buy several times. Hamilton refused to sell, although failing health drove him to semi-retirement.

One of Sir Henry's best tricks was to pick out the handsomest couple in the circus tent—without the aid of the ringmaster. Sir Henry was particularly adept at selecting good looking girls. Another trick, which would do honor to a contortionist, was touching his eye with his left hind foot.

The statue was made by H. A. Brigden, of nearby Mesopotamia. Brigden was widely known as a maker of graveyard monuments. He also did some oil paintings still to be found in Trumbull and Ashtabula county farmhouses.

Yes, the economic royalist is made rich by using other men. And that is the way a great leader is made great.

Students Ready For Junior-Senior Play In Union Township

Closing Event Of School Year Will Be Presented Thursday And Friday

Dress rehearsal was held Tuesday night and tonight, by the cast of 25, practicing for the Union high junior-senior play entitled, "Remember The Day", and everything is now in readiness for this production. Promptly at 8:15 Thursday evening, the curtain will rise on this school production. The same show will again be produced on Friday evening, in the Union high school auditorium, Scotland Lane.

This promises to be a novel and interesting playlet, with the theme of the play being a popular young student in high school, falling in love with one of his teachers. Much merriment and fun is derived from the complicated plot before it is finally worked out to a happy ending.

According to Milton Pattison, dramatics instructor, in charge of the show, two nights have been set aside for this production in order that all who wish to attend may have an opportunity.

Students of the school were busily engaged today building stage settings and arranging the scenery in order that everything will work with clock-like precision on the show nights. This play will be the closing activity of the school before the summer vacation arrives.

WOODS FIRE RAGES ALONG FIVE MILE FRONT

Huge Force Is Battling Fire

Flames Sweep Over 1,000 Acres In Plymouth, Mass, District

ONE MAN LOSES LIFE, IT IS REPORTED

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

PLYMOUTH, Mass., May 5.—A devastating woods fire raged uncontrolled over a five-mile front south of here today, threatening to spread to the Cape Cod canal. One unidentified man was burned to death and another suffered critical burns.

The fire reached its height at Five Points near Plymouth, and Fire Chief Albert Hiller said it was the worst since 1898 when flames swept from Ship Pond to Carver. He feared the fire would wreck destruction on a wider area today.

1,000 Acres Burned

A stiff southwest breeze carried the flames at high speed across wide expanses of brush and woodlands. More than 1,000 acres of valuable Woodland were burned near here and 500 more acres were blackened and charred near Hyannis.

About a thousand exhausted firefighters and CCC boys continued their battle against the onrushing flames. Hundreds of summer cottages and many large estates were in the path of the fire.

Fire swept the bird sanctuary and deer enclosure on the estate of R. C. Symington, New Jersey millionaire, and thousands of birds and hundreds of deer perished. The mansion was saved.

Sudden shifts in the wind endangered the fire fighters and made the course of the fire unpredictable. Fifty volunteer firefighters in Hyannis narrowly escaped death when a shift of the wind swept the flames toward them. They fled to safety but a $3500 fire truck was destroyed. A boy was snatched from the path of flames after his clothes had caught fire.

The first amateur will be "Mary Bivingston", portrayed by Doris Leddy, her poems will get the gong. The second number is an organ grinder skit in which Melford Baderschneider, Frances Mitchell, John Wilkens and Emery Swogger take us to sunny Italy. Jean Bartsch will give an imitation of "Ginger Dodgers", accompanied by Bill Earl, G. W.'s talented pianist.

Following this will be a goeup of impersonations by Carol Jean Rakestraw. Jean Miller will imitate Lois Miller, the organist. A humorous dialogue entitled "Girls Will Be Girls," in which Audrey Bridenbaugh and Gladys Brown are the characters will come next. The final amateur is Lena Mae McConnell, a singer. To conclude the program a trio, Ruth Cartwright, Marjorie Thomas and Virginia Morrison, will sing, accompanied by the George Washington Swingsters.

B AND O ENGINEER'S WIFE GREATLY HELPED BY VENDOL

Mahoningtown Lady Suffered Terribly From Gas In Stomach, Bloating, Acid Risings, Pains Across Back. Now Praises New Medicine For Wonderful Relief.

"I haven't felt as relieved in years as I do now, since I took Vendol, so I gladly give you my statement and recommend this medicine to others who suffer like I did."—Mrs. Henry John.

Another amazing instance of relief from long suffering came to light here a few days ago in a statement from Mrs. Henry John of 212 W. Cherry St., Mahoningtown, wife of the well known B. and O. Engineer who runs from Pittsburgh to Willard, Ohio. Both Mr. and Mrs. John are widely acquainted, so this report will be read with great interest. Vendol is the remarkable New Compound of Nature's roots and herbs combined with Alkalines which has recently created such a sensation here in New Castle and which is being introduced to crowds daily at the New Castle Drug Co. by the Vendol Man. Read what Mrs. John has to say about Vendol.

"I am so sincerely grateful to Vendol because of the wonderful relief it gave me that I gladly give you my public statement so that others in the same misery like I was, will know what to do to get relief also.

"I had been almost a constant sufferer for a long time from gas forming in my stomach after meals. This would not only happen after meals, but many times when I had not eaten anything for several hours. I would feel bloated and belch up nasty tasting, sour liquids containing bits of undigested food, then I would usually have splitting headaches. Oh! how I suffered! I would just feel sick and miserable all over as a result of this terrible sour, gassy condition in my stomach.

"I often had piercing pains across my back, felt dizzy, little spots floated before my eyes and my nerves were all quivery so I couldn't sleep.

"But I have found out that constipation was causing all this, because after I had been taking Vendol and got wonderful relief from this trouble, all the other things just seemed to pass away. I had tried otner medicines but nothing ever helped like Vendol has and since taking this splendid remedy, I never feel a sign of gas, sourness or bloating, never have a dizzy spell and the backache has been entirely relieved. My nerves are a great deal quieter, so that I enjoy sound, restful sleep. Vendol is a fine medicine and I hope what I say will help many others who suffer like I did."

Flood Control $30,000,000 Fund Will Be Spent

Roosevelt Orders Postponement Of New Legislation Setting Up Flood Control Funds

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 5.—President Roosevelt's desire for postponement of legislative action on new flood control proposals does not apply to the $30,000,000 federal flood control appropriation already set up, according to advices received today by the tri-state authority.

State Senator W. B. Rodgers, president of the tri-state authority, made public today an exchange of telegrams with Congressman Will M. Whittington, chairman of the House flood control committee, to whom the President had made known his views.

New Legislation

"Dispatch from Washington implies that President Roosevelt's letter to you recommends no flood control construction work whatever this year," Rodgers wired Whittington. "Does this mean that the $30,000,000 appropriation set up in the 1937 budget is to be sidetracked?"

Whittington's reply stated:

"Delay applies only to new legislation and does not affect the $30,000,000 appropriation."

Upon receipt of Whittington's telegram the belief was expressed in tri-state headquarters that the President's desire for "a further complete study of all of the government agencies involved" will in no way interfere with a start this year on reservoir projects designed for the protection of Pittsburgh and other upper Ohio basin communities.

The President's letter was interpreted as referring only to a long-range comprehensive half-billion dollar flood control program for the entire Ohio valley, recommended in a recent report by the army engineers corps.

Manager Of Plant Threatens To Close Down For 2 Weeks

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., May 5.—William J. Johnson, general manager of the National Erie Co., today warned strikers that unless they return to work Wednesday and remain at their jobs, the plant will close down for at least two weeks.

Johnson said he would order the fires pulled from the foundry hearths, necessitating two weeks' delay to make them ready again for operation.

The strikers meanwhile were voting whether to make the C.I.O. or the A. F. of L. the sole bargaining agency at the plant. The result of the vote was expected this afternoon. Johnson said he would recognize either or both of the unions. He claimed the plant was losing $10,000 a day through the strike.

The fishermen's strike, meanwhile, was settled and 150 fishermen returned to their boats today after being granted an increase of one cent per pound to five cents for their catch.

TO BOOST CITY

New Castle, Pa.,
May 3, 1937.

New Castle News,
N. Mercer St.,
City.

While reading The News of Saturday, May 1, I see where the Chamber of Commerce has decided to dissolve organization, also I see where a new organization is under way where as representatives of all walks of life can become members.

As a citizen of New Castle all my life and I look back over the past years I often wonder where and what has become of the many, many factories and why it is that other cities have grown.

Now then, let us all look the facts in the face and ask ourselves have we done our part as citizens and residents of New Castle? I don't believe we have, we have depended upon the other fellow too many times to do our bidding for us and never asked them what it was all about.

Let us take New Castle as a whole, what have we? Beautiful homes, beautiful churches, beautiful buildings, stores, picture shows and one of the best Cathedrals in the country, we also have the best railroad service for any factory and most of all, we have the best skilled and semi-skilled labor that any city four times its size has, bar none.

The laboring class of which resides in New Castle never was a floating class, they were interested people of whom wanted to own their own homes and I believe that is a proven fact.

Let us look at Youngstown, O. Several years ago it was not equal to New Castle in any way, where do they stand today and why? (Organization).

One thing I also forgot, we have the best schools of any city any where near our size. This also proves that we never did have a class of floating labor in our city

I do not wish any person to think that I have any thing against the Chamber of Commerce. No indeed. But I do think that we as citizens of New Castle should of had an order several years ago where as each and every ward and district of Lawrence county should have had a representative and perhaps many things could have been worked out where as we could have had new industries of which would have made employment for our labor.

In any order that wants to do the right thing for the masses there should be representatives of various groups instead of a few making all the plans.

It is also a fact that we have men and women of very high education that could handle any order of this kind right here in New Castle, ones that have been brought up here and know the conditions without going outside of our county to pick some leader and I believe we will get far better results by having some home guard instead of a stranger.

Yes, I believe that New Castle can and will be made a great little city and I believe that if an organization was started many would get in and do their part to help make our city what it really should be because as I have said before, every working man has all his life's earnings here in a home and he wants to keep that home in the future so therefore he will do his very best.

My ideas perhaps are wrong to some people of whom are interested only in their own personal welfare, but these are not the kind of people that are needed in an organization of this kind because nothing would ever be right for the masses and it is the masses that must be satisfied nowadays, it is always better for business and for every thing when the masses are satisfied and no city will advance very far unless they are.

We have everything that any public works needs, water, gas, electric, railroads, good highways and first of all, good loyal laborers of which it takes for any factory to do business.

I have seen and heard much of the Junior Chamber of Commerce lately. I know they are at least trying and perhaps it would be better for us all to get in with them and give them a hand. They are young and active, so let's do some things to help ourselves. Let's get the organization going before it is too late. Let's boost New Castle for once.

I am willing to do my part at any time because I believe in my home town and so do you.

Remaining yours sincerely,
CARL HAUFLER,
921 Rose Avenue.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Hero And Goat

(International News Service)

The hero—Dick Bartell, who made possible pitcher Carl Hubbel's 19th straight victory with two home runs as Giants beat the Reds, 7 to 6.

The goat—Outfielder Jimmy Ripple, who almost cost Hubbell the ball game by allowing a ground ball to roll through his legs, bringing in two Red runs.

Hubbell Chased But Wins Game, Pirates Ahead

Carl Hubbell Knocked Out Of Box By Reds, Pirates Hands Dodgers Thumping

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 5.—Carl Hubbell today presented the baseball world with its first major argument of the season, and one that is likely to continue far into the future.

Is he or is he not entitled to be ranked with Tim Keefe and Rube Marquard as the winner of 19 straight games? He was credited with his 19th yesterday, when the Giants beat the Cincinnati Reds, 7 to 6, but there was a catch in it for those who want to make something out of it.

Hubbell's streak was started last season when he finished with 16 in a row, and, therefore, it was broken by the off-season (not to mention a world series defeat) whereas Keefe, in 1888, and Marquard, in 1912, snared all their wins in one year.

Hubbell Taken Out

However, Hubbell has lived up to the tradition established by those two old Giants — regardless of whether he generally is ranked with them in the consecutive victory department—by his three wins this season, starting him off to what apparently will be another spectacular march through the National league. And as he goes, so go the Giants. They are tied today with the St. Louis Cardinals for second place.

Although the Reds knocked Hubbell out in the seventh, he struck out 10 while allowing nine hits. Gumbert pitched the rest of the way and preserved the victory. Dick Bartell's two homers proved a big help against the fast Redlegs, who turned in five double plays.

Yanks Tie Tigers

In the American league, the Yankees soared into a tie with the Detroit Tigers for the lead, with Lefty Gomez showing a return to the form that at one time established him as the premier pitcher of the circuit. He beat the Tigers by 10 to 1, allowing only four hits and fanning nine, and broke a Tiger streak that had stretched to four victories. The Yanks' 14-hit batting attack was liberally sprinkled with extra base blows, including a homer by Crosetti.

Moving back into the National league, the Pittsburgh Pirates remained out in front by manhandling the Dodgers, 10 to 3. The score indicates the kind of ball game they played. Dickshot hit a homer for the Pirates, while Lefty Ed. Brandt, the ex-Dodger, and Bill Swift took care of the pitching.

Cardinals Win

The Cardinals dropped into that second place tie with the Giants by virtue of an 8 to 1 defeat at the hands of the Boston Bees. Lou Fette pitched the victory and allowed only three hits. A notable feature of the game was the folding up of Lon Warneke, the Cardinal hope, who allowed 11 hits in four innings.

To add to the hilarity in that circuit, the Chicago Cubs beat and trampled the Philadelphia Phillies, 14 to 7. Tarzan Parmlee went the route for the Cubs, whose attack included homers in the eighth by Collins, Marty and Bottarini.

Sparkling relief pitching by Jimmy Deshong and a triple steal were highlights of the Washington Senators' 12 to 5 win over the Cleveland Indians in 11 innings, and a homer by Gaffke was the big blow as the Boston Red Sox beat the St. Louis Browns, 11 to 6.

The Philadelphia Athletics were rained out at Chicago.

Braddock-Louis Chicago Battle Assured Today

Maxie Schmeling Withdraws From Controversy Will Meet Winner In New York

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, May 5.—According to seemingly incontrovertible reports in circulation today, the heavyweight championship situation has been finally settled by an out-of-court and off-the-record covenant, whereby James J. Braddock can and probably will be allowed to go ahead and meet Joe Louis in Chicago on June 22 without further molestation. The agreement, said to have been reached by Promoter Mike Jacobs, Schmeling himself and Madison Square Garden, was declared to call for the following:

The withdrawal of the Garden's injunction suit, thus allowing Braddock and Louis to proceed with the Chicago fight.

An absolute guarantee to both the Garden and Schmeling that the winner will meet Max in New York for the title in September.

"You can go to sleep on it," one man, whose authority cannot be questioned, said today. "Schmeling has promised Mike Jacobs that he will go through with this arrangement, provided he is satisfied that all parties to the agreement mean business."

Ask Postponement

The first step, if any is taken, will be to ask for a postponement of the Braddock-Schmeling fight, scheduled for June 3. It was this fight over which rival factions apparently had irrevocably broken. Braddock having pulled out of the contest in order to sign with Louis as soon as the anti-Nazi boycott against Schmeling here was announced.

Schmeling and the Garden have tried everything to make Braddock change his mind, even to instituting court proceedings against the Chicago fight. These are still pending, while awaiting a decision from Judge Guy Fake in Newark, but it is said now that Schmeling has just about given up hope.

It is said, in fact, that he has reached the rather disquieting conclusion that, even if he wins the court decision, he'll still lose Braddock That, in other words, James will insist upon fighting Louis in Chicago first—or he won't fight anybody.

While he was out the curtain caught fire, panic followed, and 500 people perished.

War Admiral Is Derby Favorite

War Admiral Installed As Favorite To Win Big Classic Saturday

By DEE SPARR
International News Service Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5—Now that War Admiral has become an out and out favorite for Saturday's $50,000 Kentucky Derby without so much as sticking his head out of his stall yesterday, the fear persisted today that he may go the way of the other leading 3-year-olds and wind up among the also-rans.

If the cards even were stacked, one couldn't ask for a better setup than will prevail three days hence when the bugle calls the field out for Col. Matt Wynn's big classic.

Of all the leading candidates for the derby, War Admiral has yet to toss his public for a loss. All the others have done it, most of them in ignominious fashion.

Favor War Admiral.

When Reaping Reward could do no better than finish a driving second behind Dellor in yesterday's derby trial, it left the whole thing up to War Admiral. Is he going to go the way of all the other leading lights or is he really a good three-year-old? That was the question that bothered a lot of folks today and it is one that won't be answered until Saturday afternoon.

Not once, but twice, did Col. Edward R. Bradley's pair of Brooklyn and Billionaire go down to defeat in prep races. The same thing happened to Warren Wright's pair, Gosum and Galsun.

Jimmy Wilson Says Phillies Out Of Cellar

Manager Wilson Confident That He Has Fine Ball Club At Last

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 5.—The Phillies have given up their 99-year lease on the National league cellar and are moving their furniture upstairs to a better apartment.

Just how far upstairs they will move, Manager Jimmy Wilson was not prepared to say today. But he is willing to bet his year's salary that they will not go back to the cellar again this year.

There was nobody quicker to admit their faults and weaknesses than was Wilson when the Phillies were the butt of every humorist in the land. When he honestly believed they would finish last, he always said so.

Has Confidence.

Now when he thinks he has the makings of a real ball club he is equally insistent that you believe him.

"Ask some of these other ball clubs if we're the pushovers we used to be," said Jimmy, "and you'll be surprised at their answers.

"This club has speed and it can field. And when we get Dolph Camilli back in the lineup in a day or two and Chuck Klein gets rid of his lumbago we'll show a pretty fair punch.

"And my catching is as good as anybody's." Jim grinned ruefully. "You know it must be pretty good when a kid like Bill Atwood can keep me on the bench and I haven't slowed up much.

Good Pitchers.

"But my biggest surprise for some of these other fellows is my pitching. You never think of a Philly pitcher being any good, do you? Well, I must admit our pitching hasn't usually been anything to rave about, and even now it could be much stronger, but I have two or three fellows any other team would be glad to get.

"Heinie Manush told me he hasn't seen anybody as fast all spring as Claude Passeau was against the Dodgers. And that little lefthander, Lamaster, knows how to pitch. He's not any bigger than a minute but he's plenty swift. Then I've got Bucky Walters and Jorgens and one or two more I expect to develop as we go along."

Jimmy chuckled. "Say," he remarked, "what would Bill Terry give to land my Jewish outfielder, Morrie Arnovich? There's a kid can really go get them out there and he can tag a ball pretty fair. I'll bet Bill will be offering me about $50,000 for him next winter.

"Anyhow, there we are. We're not going to win any pennants or even come close but you can bet we're not going to be last."

Coroner's Jury Absolves Driver

Carl Ezzo Of Mahoningtown Absolved In Death Of Robert A. Sample

INQUEST IS HELD TUESDAY NIGHT

ELLWOOD CITY, May 5.—Carl Ezzo of Mahoningtown was absolved of any blame in the death of Robert A. Sample of Newport, by a coroner's jury in an inquest held Tuesday night at the office of Justice of the Peace J. E. VanGorder, by County Coroner Orville Potter.

The verdict of the jury read—"We the coroner's jury find that Robert A. Sample, 56, died at the Ellwood City Hospital 12:05 a. m., April 23, 1937 from injuries received when struck by car driven by Carl Ezzo of Mahoningtown, Pa., about 10 p. m., April 22, 1937 on Route 18 near Newport, Pa. From the evidence presented, we the jury find the accident unavoidable, and absolve the driver of any blame."

The jury was composed of E. B. Yahn, Fred D. Poister, M. J. Cable, James E. Smith, G. W. Funkhouser and Fred Robuck.

Dr. C. M. Iseman of this city who attended the accident victim at the Ellwood City Hospital, was the first witness called. Dr. Iseman testified that the man's skull was fractured in two places, a right leg and left arm broken as well as the shoulder blade. Sample was admitted at 10:15 p. m., and died at 12:05 a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Cameron and Robert Johnson of Rochester, Pa., were in a car driven by the former and going in the opposite direction at the time of the accident. All agreed that their car and the one driven by Mr. Ezzo were traveling about 25 or 30 miles per hour at the time of the accident. The Cameron car was going in the direction of New Castle on Route 18 near Newport about 10 p. m. The man was first seen about 50 feet ahead, three or four feet off the edge of the highway on the berm. As the car approached them, traveling in the opposite direction to Ellwood City, both dropped the low beams of their lights. After seeing the pedestrian the Cameron car had slowed. The man seemed to be turning at the time of the accident. None saw the impact as the car was between them and the point of contact.

A crash of glass was heard and Cameron stopped his car to investigate and render any assistance. The Ezzo car was found to be not far from the body of the man, about 30 feet. Cameron was assisted by Ezzo in placing the body in the latter's car and then taken to the office of a physician in Wampum and then to the Ellwood City hospital.

When Ezzo took the stand his story was corroborated by the previous testimony. He was on his way to work at the local plant and had left Mahoningtown about 10 p. m. Mr. Sample was not seen by him along the side of the road until after his short beam lights were on. The man seemed to stumble suddenly into the right side of the Ezzo car. The door was dinged, handle and glass broken in the car by the impact.

Mr. Crawford of Newport who lives about one-half mile from Route 18 stated that deceased was employed by him. "He had quit work about six-thirty that evening. It was the custom of Mr. Sample to take walks, and I believe he took one on that fatal evening."

Wayne Directors Elect Teachers

School Board Has Important Meeting; Salaries Of Teachers Are Increased

ELLWOOD CITY, May 5.—Among the many important business matters transacted by the Wayne township school board when they held their regular May business meeting in the Hopedale school house, was the election of teachers for the year 1937-38.

Mrs. Olive McElveen resigned and Mrs. Lois Myers Harris, of this city, was elected to fill the vacancy. The complete list of teachers includes:

Park Gate—Grades 1, 2, Miss Mandress Snodgrass grades 3, 4, Miss Helen Cox; grades 5, 6, Miss Ada Tillia; grades 7, 8, George Conway.

Matheny—Grades 1-4, Mrs. Jane Friday; grades 5-8, Clair McDeavitt.

Wurtemburg—Grades 1-8, Mrs. Anna Osborne.

Hopedale—Grade 7, Mrs. Lois Harris; grade 8, William Boyer.

Mrs. Doris Stoner, Miss Dorothy McKee, Mrs. Martha McCulla, Miss Grace Owens and Mrs. Irene Coleman were the teachers elected for the new consolidated school house with each one to be assigned to a definite grade at a later meeting.

Elmer Kanagg of Wampum, was elected as music teacher. He will spend two days a week, Monday and Tuesday, at the Wayne township schools. One day will be devoted to the Park Gate, Matheny and Wurtemburg schools and the other day to the new school and the Hopedale school. The remainder of the week, he is employed at the Little Beaver and New Galilee schools.

The directors voted to increase the wages of the teachers ten per cent more than the rate paid last year.

The new consolidated school house is completed and ready for occupancy for the opening of school next fall. It is situated on a well selected and suitable site on a part of the Cunningham farm and was constructed of fire-proof brick.

This structure contains five class rooms, two on the first floor and three on the second floor, and will replace four one-room school buildings, which are no longer adequate for school purposes. The schools being replaced are: Mt. Hope, Locust Ridge, Quarry and a section of Burnstown pupils, who were formerly tuition pupils of the Ellport schools.

Although this new school building has cost approximately $61,016, the cost to the taxpayers of Wayne township will be only $33,559, or 55 per cent of the total cost of the project, the difference being the portion covered by the Public Works Administration grant. The total amount being paid by the PWA is $27,457, or 45 per cent of the total cost.

All of the Wayne township schools are completing their closing days of the present term, this week. Locust Ridge, Quarry and Mt. Hope will finished on Thursday, while the remaining schools will wind up their schedule on Friday.

Saturday evening, June 5, will mark the evening of the next business meeting, at which time the budget for the coming year will be prepared and the tax millage for 1937 will be determined.

ELLWOOD CITY, May 5.—The Kiwanis Key club entertained members of the Senior Kiwanis with a banquet at 6:15 o'clock Tuesday evening in the Lutheran church on Second street, with Governor Frederick Poulson of Coraopolis guest speaker.

Junior club associates had complete charge of the program, with their president, George Robuck, presiding. Throughout the evening he was assisted by Ed. Gamble, pianist, and Joe Pischianeri, who led in the group singing.

Activities were launched with Laird Daubenspeck giving the invocation, and an address of welcome to the Senior club was given by George Robuck. In response Boyd Barret spoke in behalf of the senior group and congratulated the boys on their many accomplishments during the past year and encouraged them to continue their faithful activities in many varied lines.

Arthur Webster, faculty advisor, acted as toastmaster. He expressed great appreciation of the co-operation of the two clubs. Afterwards, Ed. Thalbatt related a complete history of the Kiwanis Key club, with its organizing taking place in October. He cited in his talk many interesting phases, including the viewing of the high school monthly paper and the biggest high school dance of the year. These boys drew up their own constitution and by-laws, limiting members to 24 in the senior group and six in the junior. They are chosen by their scholastic standing or E. C. A.

The balance of the meeting was turned over to the senior club, at which time the guest speaker, Gov. Paulson, congratulated the assemblage on the fine work they are doing with the young men of Ellwood City. He emphasized unlimited encouragement in cultivating friendship, character and leadership, which will eventually lead to greater accomplishments for the club and individuals in Kiwanis work.

Announcement was made concerning the meeting scheduled for Thursday, May 20, at the Country club, with Rev. O. Emerson, chairman in charge. Local life insurance organizations will be present for a joint meeting for civic clubs, with both men and women participating, following this dinner.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL.

What is your opinion of a Rummage Sale? We won't be quoted at this time but here is a little story about such a sale . . . maybe you can make up your mind and let us know how you feel . . . Elsie of the South Side brought the matter to mind.

* * *

Here is the way the Sale starts . . . the women usually conduct the sales . . . church women or maybe it will be a group of the 400 . . . they decided they need a little money for the needy in this or some other community of country . . . well they get their heads together and decide on a date suitable for a Rummage Sale . . . on or the next day after a pay day "Get 'em while they got the money" is their motto . . . well the date is decided on . . . the women go home and start prepairing for the event . . . the first place they hit is hubby or the children's clothes press . . . let's make hubby an example for the present . . . "now these old shoes, they haven't been used for ages . . . and look at that suit . . . I never did like the thing . . . and look over here, these hats . . . why he has two hats, he can only wear one at a time, I'll just take this stuff down to the Rummage Sale . . . he will never miss them" . . . Hubby comes home and men you know the rest . . . those shoes were old but they would serve when you went on that hike with the children next summer . . . and the suit . . . maybe it wasn't the best but it would do for a picnic or to wear while fixing the car . . . and that hat, why it was the best hat you had, bought before you were married and you could afford to pay good money for hats . . . that is the way a Rummage Sale starts . . . the next step or step three . . . it's time for the wares to be arranged for the sale . . . what happens here? One woman sees something that another woman has . . . just what she has been looking for . . . it is bought at a very low price . . . this part of the sale we call the Preferred List . . . well it's time for the big opening . . . the doors are thrown open and in comes the bargain hungry crowd . . . the women make a few dollars . . . what happens to the other merchants on the street . . . they have a rent to pay . . . a tax to pay and their merchandise won't keep for ever . . . form your own opinion and give the idea a little thought.

Stock Market Is Irregular

Rails, Utilities And Amusements In Fair Demand Today

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 5.—The stock market turned irregular today under light realizing.

Rails, utilities and amusements were in fair demand through the forenoon, but lost a good part of their early gains. Such representative groups as motor, rubber, steel, aviation and merchandising, were highly mixed and extremely dull. Coppers were under pressure and sustained losses of as much as a point.

Atchison was the market's bright spot before meeting with profit taking. For the second day in a row the stock climbed into new high ground, on a gain of better than a point. Illinois Central, Northern Pacific and Southern Pacific registered slightly lesser gains.

Price changes in prime industrials, including General Motors, Chrysler, U. S Steel and Bethlehem, were factional and generally on the minus side. Most of these had been moderately higher through the first half-hour.

American Smelting lost more than a point in the coppers, closely followed by Phelps-Dodge, Anaconda and Kennecott.

Bonds ruled higher, including U. S. government obligations. Commodities were mostly improved, grains rising more than a cent a bushel and cotton about 50 cents a bale.

Gold Star Mothers Banquet Guests Of Legion Auxiliary

Over 100 Attend Annual Dinner Given By American Legion Auxiliary

"Give us more of the old fashioned mothers—More like our Gold Star Mothers" was the concluding statement of Rev. Boston Turner, of the First Pentecostal church, in his address given before the Gold Star Mothers and American Legion Auxiliary members Monday evening, at their annual banquet in the Legion Home.

Rev. Turner, guest speaker, was introduced by past president and chairman of the program, Mrs. Orville Potter. In his talk, he related the origin of "Mothers' Day" and how it is nationally observed.

Preceding, guests numbering over a hundred, were served a banquet in the diningroom at tables appropriately decorated in keeping with the season.

The program ensued, with Mrs. Potter in charge. She introduced Mrs. Anna Gorst, who in turn presented each Gold Star mother with a white carnation. Also, those whose mothers are not living, were remembered with a white carnation too, and those present whose mothers were living, received a pink carnation. Mrs. Gorst made a speech afterwards on the subject "Honor Thy Mother." Gold Star Mothers present, were Mrs. Fred Wehr, Mrs. Emma Campbell, Mrs. Mary Phillips, Mrs. Sara Thomas, Mrs. Mella Smith and Mrs. Anna Gorst. Aiding in the distribution of the flowers, were, Mesdames Mary Wilson, David Tobin, Eleanor Wilkins, Mary Craig and Nick Speed.

A special feature was the presenting of a lovely gift to Mrs. Mary Phillips, the eldest Gold Star member in attendance, who reached her seventy-seventh anniversary last November. Mrs. Mary Wilson then gave each guest of honor, a yellow rose.

Old time music was provided by a group of boys, composed of Jack Ketzel, John Abonvich, Fred Tem and the Huff brothers, who were attired in cow-boy suits. They entertained for a half hour period. Just before activities were drawing to a close, they played request selections, for the Gold Star mothers.

Miss Dorothy Barnsley pleased with a piano solo, and later, she gave a reading entitled "Getting Two Stations On The Radio."

Mrs. Potter concluded with an impressive tribute to all living mothers, and those who have passed on. A general social period brought the evening to a close.

Guests were welcomed by president of the auxiliary, Mrs. Mary Wilson, and the invocation given earlier in the evening, was by Mrs. Anna Jones, chaplain of the organization.

Thayer Company Suit Being Heard

Architects Seeking Pay For Work Done On Plans For New Court House

With Judge George H. Rowley of Mercer County sitting, the case of the Thayer Company against the County of Lawrence went to trial today in court room number two of the Lawrence county court house. Judge Rowley was called for the reason that Judge W. Walter Braham was in the case before he came to the bench, and Judge James A. Chambers was on the bench when the facts out of which the case arises were first presented.

The case is one in quantum meruit, that is, one in which the plaintiffs, A. L. Thayer, Harding Thayer and Lauren Thayer, architects, doing business as the Thayer Co. seek to collect fees for work done on plans and specifications for a new court house which was not built.

They had a contract with the previous board of county commissioners to prepare plans and specifications for a court house which the commissioners planned to build. At the completion of the preliminary work the Thayer Company was paid $7800 under the agreement.

Subsequently the court ruled adversely upon the selection of a site and said that no site would be approved which meant that the court house could not be built. The Thayer Company first brought suit on their contract but Judge Brownson of Washington county said they could not recover on that but that a suit in quantum meruit could be had. This is the suit brought today.

Briefly the case is this. The Thayer Company asks the jury to decide what money they should be paid for their work in preparation of plans and specifications. They state that their work was 90 per cent completed and ask for a verdict on that basis.

The jury selected to try the case consists of Charles H. Berry, plasterer, 2nd ward; Martha McClenehan, clerk, Pulaski township; Bessie Graham, housekeeper, Washington township; George Warso, carpenter, Neshannock township; Mary Brown, housekeeper, 7th ward; T. Gaylord Shaw, farmer, Plaingrove township; Samuel Hart, retired, New Wilmington; Earl Hollerman, lather, Ellport; Cecil Wooley, clerk, 4th ward; Walter L. Kurtz, farmer, Little Beaver township; Kenneth Marshall, laborer Ellwood City; Robert Trotter, merchant, New Wilmington.

The case will probably occupy all the rest of the week as it will be a technical one.

FORFEITS $100.00

Carmon Deleone, West Washington street, arrested yesterday on suspicion of operating a disorderly house placed a forfeit of $100.00, obtained his liberty and did not appear in police court today. Number books and other alleged gambling slips were found in his place, police alleged.

But when people are taught to despise the courts, how will you make them respect the courts again when the battle is won?

'The Dark Ages' Not Dull Time

So Declares Dr. John Orr, Westminster Instructor, In College Address

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, May 5.—"The Dark Ages in spite of the name given them was not a dull, monotonous age," Dr. John Orr, philosophy and Bible department head, said in his Tuesday night address at Westminster college, as a part of the "Medieval Week" program.

In many ways the period was as exciting as our own, in spite of radios, television, airplanes and talkies, Dr. Orr explained. The blast of gun-powder was first heard in this period, 1100 to 1400; as well as the heroic escapades of Joan of Arc, the downfall of the power of kings and the exciting episodes of the Scotch mountain clans under Wallace and Robert the Bruce.

In the first address of the series Monday night, Prof. E. T. Miller, department of economics, spoke on the economic institutions of the Middle Ages.

"There were no unemployment problems and no old-age pensions in the Middle Ages," he commented. "All of the economic surplus was used up; and men could justly say that the world owed them a living."

The journeying peddler was partly responsible for the breakdown of castle and village life of this period, Professor Miller pointed out.

"The vast majority of people were completely satisfied with food, shelter and clothing as their share of the worlds' goods," Professor Miller said. "Only the court, the clergy, wealthy university students and a few military men could afford any of the luxuries of life, which were imported."

Instead of buying in stores as the modern world does, women of the middle ages did their shopping at the fairs held in villages throughout Europe at various times during the year, Professor Miller said.

The program for the remainder of the week includes "Medieval Science", by Dean A. C. Burr, May 5; and "Literature of the Middle Ages", Dr. Mary Purdy and Miss Virginia Everett of the department of English.

Climaxing the week will be an illustrated lecture on "The Medieval Cathedral", by Dr. Clarence Ward, art department head of Oberlin college, Friday evening. All talks are in the Little Theater, and open to the public, and are in charge of Prof. Harold Brennan, department of art.

Seek Merit System For State Employes

No Public Dissenting Voice At Hearing On Civil Service Bill

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 5.—Having failed to hear one dissenting voice in public hearing, the house committee on state government today was expected to report out the Weiss Civic Service Bill.

Introduced by Rep. Samuel A. Weiss, D., Allegheny, the measure is one of those sponsored by the local government commission and would provide a merit system for all employes of the commonwealth with the exception of those elected or appointed by the legislature.

Despite the likelihood of the proposal reaching the floor of the lower chamber, however, indications were that the issue would make little progress.

Passage of the Weiss Bill was urged in hearing by an array of civil service advocates and merit system speakers.
